

Nabla

Please read, your consent is required

The GPs at this practice use a software tool called Nabla Copilot, to make it easier to write down your medical notes. It helps them spend more time focused on your care, and less time on the computer.

This tool will listen to the conversation with your doctor and convert it into a summary, which the GP will review and edit for accuracy. The tool will have access to the audio of the conversation during your visit, but it will not be saved and will not be used further by the tool.

Your medical information will stay private and only shared with those you allow.

Do you consent to the use of this tool during our visit and future visits?
